

Fits almost on every door

Nuki presents the Universal Cylinder

The Nuki Universal Cylinder fits almost every door and complies with the highest security standards.

Graz (Austria) – 25th January 2022. No measuring necessary - the Nuki Universal Cylinder adapts perfectly to almost any door thanks to its modular design. Of course, the cylinder meets the highest security requirements and is equipped with the emergency and danger function, so it can be opened from the outside by key at any time.

Content of this message:

- Universal locking cylinder adjustable in length
- 33 possible cylinder dimensions (inside 30-55 mm, outside 32-42 mm)
- developed together with M&C - more than secure
- Corresponds to the highest security class SKG , highest protection against break-ins, including protection against drilling out
- five keys with security card included with delivery
- emergency function allows to open the door from the outside with the key at any time even if the Nuki Smart Lock is installed
- available now at the price of 79 euros

More comfort and security through cylinder replacement

Replacing the cylinder makes sense if the existing locking cylinder does not offer an emergency or danger function, or if there is not enough space to glue the mounting plate of the Nuki Smart Lock. In both scenarios the Universal Cylinder offers help. It can be built up in a way that there is enough space on the inside to fix the mounting plate directly to the cylinder. This eliminates the need to measure the door, which is often a bit fiddly with normal locking cylinders. Changing the cylinder is also very simple and can be done in just a few minutes. The Universal Cylinder was developed with the security professionals from M&C - more than secure and corresponds to the highest security requirements according to SKG , including drilling, impact and core pull protection. In particular, older locks without emergency and danger functions are in general less secure.

Perfect for tenants

The word "cylinder exchange" is usually met with the objection "I live in a rented house". Incidentally, you don't have to ask the landlord for permission. When you move, you only have to put the original cylinder back into the door and the Nuki Universal Cylinder moves with you. This is where the modular design pays off, as the cylinder can easily be adapted to the door in the new flat. Keys that have been deposited with trusted persons do not have to be exchanged when moving.

Price and availability

The Nuki Universal Cylinder is now available in the Nuki webshop for 79 euros. 5 keys and a security card are included with delivery for each Universal Cylinder. Additional keys can be ordered with the enclosed security card.
